READING[15 Marks]

Read the text and complete the following tasks that follow.

Reading-1A Visit to the Farm

Last weekend, Emma and her classmates went on a school trip to a farm. The morning was cool and fresh, with birds singing in the trees. When they arrived, the farmer welcomed them warmly and gave them a detailed tour of the fields and barns. Emma was fascinated by the daily routines of taking care of the cows, sheep, and chickens.

After the tour, the children participated in feeding the animals. They gave hay to the cows and scattered grain for the chickens. The farmer explained the process of collecting milk and eggs, and everyone listened carefully, asking thoughtful questions. The students were surprised to learn how early the farmer had to wake up each day, even on weekends.

Later, the group had a picnic by a small lake. They enjoyed sandwiches and apples while watching ducks swim gracefully. Some students played soccer on a grassy field, while others rested under the shade of tall trees, sharing stories and laughing together. The peaceful surroundings made everyone feel relaxed and happy.

Before leaving, the class had the opportunity to buy fresh farm products. Emma chose a bottle of creamy milk and a dozen brown eggs. On the bus ride home, she thought about how much work goes into running a farm and decided it was one of the best school trips she'd ever had.

9. What did Emma buy before leaving?

Reading-2:

A Day in the City

Last Sunday, David and his family spent an exciting day in the city. They took a train early in the morning and arrived downtown just as shops were opening. The streets were already bustling with people shopping, chatting, and tourists capturing the beauty of the architecture.

First, they visited a large museum, where David was amazed by the towering dinosaur skeletons and ancient artifacts. They spent two hours exploring the different exhibits, reading the information carefully, and learning fascinating facts about history and science. David was especially curious about a room dedicated to space exploration, filled with models of planets and old telescopes.

After the museum, they went to a nearby park for lunch. David ate a big sandwich and shared crispy fries with his sister. They watched talented street performers playing lively music and performing incredible magic tricks that made everyone laugh and cheer.

In the afternoon, they walked along the river and took a scenic boat tour. David thought the city looked even more stunning from the water, with the sun reflecting off the glass buildings. It was a fun and unforgettable day for the whole family, and David couldn't wait to tell his friends about the amazing exhibits and the boat ride.
